Part B. CV SUMMARY (max. 3500 characters, including spaces)

Dr. Pilar García-Argüelles Andreu (Mahón, 1958) studied Geography and History in the Faculty of Philosophy and Letters of Tarragona, in the UB, from 1976 to 1981. From 1984 to 1987 she had an Spanish predoctoral grant and she passed in 1987 her PhD entitled Las industrias epipaleolíticas del Sur de Cataluña: antecedentes, desarrollo y evolución hacia nuevas formas neolítica, under the direction of Pr. Maluquer de Motes. During her predoctoral period she taught Quaternary Prehistory and European Prehistory from 1984-85 to 1987-88. She also collaborated in the doctorate course "El papel de las tipologías líticas en la Prehistoria", in 1985-86. In 1986 she worked as archaeological technician for the catalan government and she obtained also a postdegree master on Museology. From 1989 to 1991 she was temporary titular professor in Prehistoria at the Dep. de Prehistoria, Historia Antigua y Arqueología at the UB. She obtained a two-year Master on Heritage Management at the UB (1993-1995). In 1995 she obtained a permanent post as titular profesor in Prehistory at the UB, where she continues teaching in the three levels of the degrees in History and in Archaeology, and in masters.

From the first momento of her academic life Dr. Garcia-Argüelles oriented her research interests in the studies of last hunter-gatherer people, more precisely the Tardiglacial and early Holocene societies. Her research works in the Montsant river valley (Tarragona's area) has given excellent results about settlement and palaeoecology, a zone of specialised hunting during millenia. She has worked also in the Moianès area (Barcelona), en the same chronological moment. She has been the director of some very important sites of the catalán Prehistory like the rock shelters of El Filador, Els Colls or L'Hort de la Boquera (Margalef de Montsant, Tarragona), L'Areny (Vilanova d'Escornalbou, Tarragona), Balma del Gai (Moià, Barcelona), Bauma de la Peixera d'Alfés (Alfés, Lleida) or Can Sadurní cave (Begues, Barcelona). From 1983 on, she has participated in many research competitive projects as IP or as researcher. Her specialised field of research are lithic industries, mainly typology and technology. Since 1993 she has been member of the Quality Research Group of SERP. This research group was born in 1987 and concentrates most of the research in Prehistory at the University of Barcelona, under the direction of Pr. Fullola.

She has published a lot of papers, most of them in high impact journals, but also books and book chapters; in her CV there are also conference, congresses and workshops. She has been member of organizing comitees of national and international reunions. She has 4 six-year research quality periods (the last was conceded in 2016), and 5 five-years teaching quality periods (the last was conceded in 2019) She has been the director of a PhD and many master and degree final studies works.

Dr. Garcia-Argüelles is now academic secretary of the Prehistory and Archaeology section of the Dept. of History and Archaeology at the University of Barcelona, and she has coordinated predoctoral studies in the Department (2000-2002) She evaluates research aspects (projects, professors...) in differents evaluation agencies (AQU, AVAP, AGAUR, ANEP/AEI)
